Industrials extend gains in mid-week trades...

The ZSE closed firmer in mid-week trades after sealing a marginal 0.30% in gains to close at 145.97pts. The upward move was mainly sustained by the duo of heavy caps in Delta and Old mutual and the banking group Barclays in a session that closed with a positive market breadth of two. Barclays headlined the risers after shoring up 3.13% to close at $0.033, albeit closing well offered at that level. Delta was to follow after putting on a hefty 1.10% to close at a vwap of $0.9159 having touched an intra-day high of $0.9200. Old mutual completed the risers set with a 0.05% gain to end pegged at $3.5000 on firming demand. Weighing on the Index were losses in pork processor Colcom which was the sole faller of the day after succumbing 5.41% to settle at $0.3500 closing well bid at that level.

Aggregates for the day remained depressed as all measures closed pointing southwards. Value spurned across the board dipped 65.70% to $0.21m while, volumes exchanged dropped 44.04%. Delta emerged the top driver on both aggregates after making respective contributions of 39.92% to the volume and 52.94% on the value outturn. The other notable volume driver was SeedCo which claimed 25.52% and 35.86% of the volume and value aggregate. Foreign inflows and outflows thinned out to $0.08m each which was 70.42% and 64.83% down from yesterday respectively. The Mining Index closed flat at 58.51 pts.
